CHAPTER XXVII.

"NOW will you be good?" cried Reggie Vanderpool to DeMille as Monty went down the companionway. The remark was precisely what was needed, for the pent up feelings of the entire company were now poured forth upon the unfortunate young man. Subway Smith was for lunging him to the yardarm, and the denunciation of the others was so decisive that Reggie sought refuge in the chart house. But the atmosphere had been materially cleared, and the leaders of the mutiny were in a position to go into executive session and consider the matter. The women waited on deck while the meeting lasted. They were unanimous in the opinion that the affair had been badly managed.

"They should have offered to stay by the ship provided Monty would let Mr. DeMille manage the cruise," said Miss Valentine. "That would have been a concession, and at the same time it would have put the cruise on an economical basis."

"In other words, you will accept a man's invitation to dinner if he will allow you to order it and invite the other guests," said Peggy, who was quick to defend Monty.

"Well, that would be better than helping to eat up every bit of food he possessed." But Miss Valentine always avoided argument when she could and gave this as a parting thrust before she walked away.

"There must be something more than we know about in Monty's extravagance," said Mrs. Dan. "He left the kind of man to squander his last penny without having something left to show for it. There must be method in his madness."

"He has done it for us," said Peggy. "He has devoted himself all along to giving us a good time, and now we are showing our gratitude."

Further discussion was prevented by the appearance of the conspiring committee, and the whole company was summoned to hear DeMille's report as chairman.

"We have found a solution of our difficulties," he began. And his manner was so jubilant that every one became hopeful. "It is desperate, but I think it will be effective. Monty has given us the privilege of leaving the yacht at any port where we can take a steamer to New York. Now, my suggestion is that we select the most convenient place for all of us, and obviously there is nothing quite so convenient as Boston."

"Dan DeMille, you are quite foolish," cried his wife. "Who ever conceived such a ridiculous idea?"

"Captain Perry has his instructions," continued DeMille, turning to the captain. "Are we not acting along the lines marked out by Brewster himself?"

"I will sail for Boston if you say the word," said the thoughtful captain. "But he is sure to countermand such an order."

"He won't be able to, captain!" cried Subway Smith, who had for some time been eager to join in the conversation. "This is a genuine, dyed in the wool mutiny, and we expect to carry out the original plan, which was to put Mr. Brewster in irons until we were safe from all opposition."

"He is my friend, Mr. Smith, and at least it is my duty to protect him from any indication," said the captain stily.

"You make for Boston, my dear captain, and we'll do the rest," said DeMille. "Mr. Brewster can't countermand your order, unless he sees you in person. We'll see to it that he has no chance to talk to you until we are in sight of Boston harbor."

The captain looked doubtful and shook his head as he walked away. At heart he was with the mutineers, and his mind was made up to assist them as long as it was possible to do so without violating his obligations to Brewster. He felt guilty, however, in surreptitiously giving the order to clear for Boston at daybreak. The chief officers were let into the secret, but the sailors were kept in darkness regarding the destination of the flitter.

Montgomery Brewster's guests were immensely pleased with the scheme, although they were dubious about the outcome. Mrs. Dan regretted her hasty comment on the plan and entered into the plot with eagerness. In accordance with plans decided upon by the mutineers, Monty's stateroom door was guarded through the night by two of the men. The next morning as he emerged from his room he was met by Subway Smith and Dan DeMille.

"Good morning," was his greeting.

"How's the weather today?"

"Bully," answered DeMille. "By the way, you are going to have breakfast in your room, old man."

Brewster unsuspiciously led the way into his stateroom, the two following.

"What's the mystery?" he demanded. "We've been deputized to do some very nasty work," said Subway as he turned the key in the door. "We are here to tell you what port we have chosen."

"It's awfully good of you to tell me," "Yes, isn't it? But we have studied up on the chivalrous treatment of prisoners. We have decided on Boston."

"Is there a Boston on this side of the water?" asked Monty in mild surprise.

"No; there is only one Boston in the universe, so far as we know. It is a large body of intellect surrounded by the rest of the world."

"What are you talking about? You don't mean Boston, Mass.?" cried Monty, leaning to his feet.

"Precisely. That's the port for us, and you told us to choose for ourselves," said Smith.

"Well, I won't have it, that's all!" exclaimed Brewster indignantly. "Captain Perry takes orders from me and from no one else."

"He already has his orders," said DeMille, smiling mysteriously.

"I'll see about that," Brewster sprang to the door. It was locked, and the key was in Subway Smith's pocket. With an impatient exclamation he turned and pressed an electric button.

"It won't ring, Monty," explained Subway. "The wire has been cut. Now, be cool for a minute or two and we'll talk it over."

Brewster stormed for five minutes, the "delegation" sitting calmly by, smiling with exasperating confidence. At last he calmed down and in terms of reason demanded an explanation. He was given to understand that the yacht would sail for Boston and that he would be kept a prisoner for the entire voyage unless he submitted to the will of the majority.

Brewster listened darkly to the proclamation. He saw that they had gained the upper hand by a clever ruse and that only strategy on his part could outwit them. It was out of the question for him to submit to them now that the controversy had assumed the dignity of a struggle.

"But you will be reasonable, won't you?" said DeMille anxiously. "I intend to fight it out to the bitter end," said Brewster, his eyes flashing. "At present I am your prisoner, but it is a long way to Boston."

For three days and two nights the flitter steamed westward into the Atlantic, with her temporary owner locked in his stateroom. The confinement was irksome, but he rather liked the sensation of being interested in something besides money. He frequently laughed to himself over the absurdity of the situation. His enemies were friends, true and devoted; his jailers were reluctant, but they were considerate. The original order that he should be guarded by one man was violated on the first day. There were times when his guard numbered at least ten persons and some of them served tea and begged him to listen to reason.

"It is difficult not to listen," he said fiercely. "It's like holding a man down and then asking him to be quiet. But my time is coming."

"Revenge will be his!" exclaimed Mrs. Dan tragically.

"You might have your term shortened on account of good conduct if you would only behave," suggested Peggy, whose reserve was beginning to soften. "Please be good and give in."

"I haven't been happier during the whole cruise," said Monty. "On deck I wouldn't be noticed, but here I am quite the whole thing. Besides I can get out whenever I feel like it."

"I have $1,000 which says you can't," said DeMille, and Monty snapped him up so eagerly that he added, "that you can't get out of your own accord."

Monty acceded to the condition and offered odds on the proposition to the others, but there were no takers.

"That settles it," he smiled grimly to himself. "I can make $1,000 by staying here, and I can't afford to escape."

On the third day of Monty's imprisonment the flitter began to roll heavily. At first he gloated over the discomfort of his guards, who obviously did not like to stay below. Subway Smith and Bragdon were on duty and neither was famous as a good sailor. When Monty lit his pipe there was consternation, and Subway rushed on deck.

"You are a brave man, Joe," Monty said to the other and blew a cloud of smoke in his direction. "I knew you would stick to your post. You wouldn't leave it even if the ship should go down."

Bragdon had reached the stage where he dared not speak and was busy himself trying to "breathe with the motion of the boat, as he had called it."

"By Jove," continued Monty reluctantly. "This smoke is getting thick. Some of this toilet water might help if I sprinkled it about."

One whiff of the sweet smelling cologne was enough for Bragdon and he bolted up the companionway, leaving the stateroom door wide open and the prisoner free to go where he pleased. Monty's first impulse was to follow, but he checked himself on the threshold.

"Hang that bet with DeMille," he said to himself, and added aloud to the fleeing guard, "The key, Joe—I dare you to come back and get it!"

But Bragdon was beyond recall and Monty locked the door on the inside and passed the key through the ventilator.

On deck a small part of the company braved the spray in the lee of the deck house, but the others had long since gone below. The boat was pitching furiously in the ugliest sea it had encountered, and there was anxiety underneath Captain Perry's mask of unconcern. DeMille and Dr. Lotless talked in the senseless way men have when they try to conceal their nervousness. But the women did not respond; they were in no mood for conversation.

Only one of them was quite oblivious to personal discomfort and danger. Peggy Gray was thinking of the prisoner below. In a reflection of her own terror she pictured him crouching in the little stateroom like a doomed criminal awaiting execution, alone, neglected, forgotten, unvisited. At first she pleaded with the men for his release, but they insisted upon waiting in the hope that a scare might bring him to his senses. Peggy saw that no help was to be secured from the other women, much as they might care for Brewster's peace of mind and safety. Her heart was bitter toward every one responsible for the situation, and there was dark rebellion in her soul. It culminated finally in a resolve to release Monty Brewster at any cost.

With difficulty she made her way to the stateroom door, clinging to supports at times and then plunging violently away from them. For some minutes she listened, frantically clutching Brewster's door and the wall rail. There was no guard, and the tumult of the sea drowned every sound within. Her imagination ran riot when her repeated calls were not answered.

"Monty, Monty!" she cried, pounding wildly on the door.

"Who is it? What is the trouble?" came in muffled tones from within, and Peggy breathed a prayer of thanks. Just then she discovered the key which Monty had dropped and quickly opened the door, expecting to find him cowering with fear. But the picture was different. The prisoner was seated on the divan, propped up with many pillows and reading with the aid of an electric light "The Intrusions of Peggy."

A MILITANT MINISTRY

Veedsburg Preachers Go After Law Violators Personally.

Veedsburg, Ind., Aug. 8.—A saloon and preacher mixup of a few nights ago has just been made public. It appears that the Rev. A. W. Gehres and the Rev. W. K. Richardson, both of this city, united in a crusade against the saloon business and a few nights ago went to investigate matters for themselves. They hid themselves in an empty box-car where they could easily observe any law violations by the saloons. In this they were detected by friends of the saloons, and when they started home at a late hour they were followed by two men.

Near the Wabash clay works the two strangers accosted the two ministers and demanded to know who they were. A free-for-all fight ensued, in which the Rev. Mr. Gehres gave one of his assailants a good thrashing. The Rev. Mr. Richardson, who is much smaller in stature than Mr. Gehres, was held by the second man, but received no injuries. The two ministers recognized the highwaymen as two saloon men of the city. An attempt will be made to acquaint the grand jury with the case and interesting developments are expected.

He Gave Up the Fight.

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 8.—Without overcoming the barriers raised by the blanket remonstrance, the liquor element of Launium township has won a victory that may have some effect on the temperance situation. F. W. Elliott, editor of the Clarksville News, has given up his fight against liquor and let the town. He led the temperance forces, and it was through him that the work started by Harry Shaffer at Clarksville was perpetuated. Recently he had been disturbed by the lawless element of Launium township, and he was warned to stop the prosecution of liquor interests.

Extension of Interurban.

Wabash, Ind., Aug. 8.—The management of the Indiana Northern Traction company, which is operating the Wabash-Marion interurban and is preparing to extend the line north to Warsaw, has submitted specifications to the rail mills and bridge companies for estimates for the steel needed on the extension from Wabash to North Manchester, fourteen miles. All of the right-of-way has been obtained and the franchises in all the towns are arranged for.

HAS AMPLE FUNDS

New Orleans Not Financially
Handicapped in Its Struggle.

SCIENCE TO THE FORE

Health Authorities Hope to Stamp
Out Fever Before Frost, Here-to-fore the Only Prophylactic.Marine Hospital Service Under Authority of President Now in Complete Control.

New Orleans, Aug. 8.—Official report to 6 p. m.: New cases yesterday, 32; total to date, 565; deaths yesterday, 8; total to date, 113; new sub-foci, 4; total to date, 97.

New Orleans, Aug. 8.—With the marine hospital service under the authority of President Roosevelt in complete control, the scientific fight to eradicate yellow fever from New Orleans before frost, heretofore the only prophylactic, has taken on fresh life, and with ample funds, the best available talent and an army of willing workers at his back, Dr. J. H. White, surgeon in charge, hopes for a successful termination of the struggle. The state and city boards of health both pledge all the assistance of the forces under them to Dr. White in his undertaking. Dr. White said the transfer of details would be gradual so that there might be no interruption in the work now in progress. The shifting of authority is expected to be complete by tonight.

It was announced that the marine hospital service would take up, as soon as the settlement of details will permit, the receiving and compiling of the daily reports. An impression has prevailed in some quarters outside of New Orleans that all the cases occurring were not made public. That impression has been entirely unjust, but in order that there may be perfect confidence throughout the country that an accurate statistical statement is being made daily, Dr. White and the whole public desires that hereafter these announcements shall be made under federal authority. In this connection a statement some time ago appeared in many newspapers throughout the country that although the New Orleans health authorities had announced only a total of fifty deaths, the marine hospital report had put the figure at more than 200. Dr. White, in reply, states that no such statement was ever given out by his department; that no such number of deaths had occurred, and that the figures furnished daily by his department were correct.

There was a prompt response to the appeal of Chairman Janvier of the citizens' committee for additional subscriptions to the citizens' fund to the end of raising the quarter of a million dollars desired by the government. Checks poured steadily into the office of the committee. In addition to this appeal Mr. Janvier took steps for state aid. When Governor Blanchard came here for conference with Dr. White and the health officials three weeks ago he said that should the emergency warrant it, the state could be depended on to do its share toward furnishing the funds necessary toward prosecuting the fight to a successful finish. Yesterday Mr. Janvier wired the government, saying the emergency was here and that the state's assistance has been pledged to the government to assist in raising the money desired. In similar emergencies in the past the governor has consulted the members of the legislature by wire and secured their pledge of support of legislation to reimburse the fiscal agents for money borrowed from them. As the whole state is interested in the present campaign, it is assumed that in twenty-four to forty-eight hours the governor will have all the backing he desires and that Louisiana's contribution of at least $50,000 will be made. Unsolicited checks have been sent here from other parts of the country to the fund, which will be fully subscribed, it is believed, before it is wanted.

It Stirs Them Up.

Shanghai, Aug. 8.—The boycott on American goods is becoming so burdensome to the trade of all nations here that the general chamber of commerce has telegraphed to the dean of the diplomatic body at Peking and the China association has wired Sir Ernest Sato, the British minister, asking them to endeavor to persuade the Chinese foreign office to interfere and prevent further injury to trade.

Bicyclists Interested.

New York, Aug. 8.—Despite the extremely hot weather more than 3,000 bicycle enthusiasts were in attendance at the opening meet of the season at Madison Square Garden last night.

Tourists Encounter Snow.

Innsbruck, Austria, Aug. 8.—There has been a heavy snowstorm throughout the inner Ziller valley. One hundred and forty tourists are snowbound.

Condition Is Encouraging.

New Orleans, Aug. 8.—Archbishop Chapelle, who was stricken with yellow fever, is reported as doing well. He will pass the crisis today.

TALKED WITH MORGAN

President Has Caller in Person of Big Financier.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 8.—J. Pierpont Morgan of New York had a conference with President Roosevelt, lasting an hour and a half. The president himself is authority for the statement that it related practically entirely to the case of the Hankow railroad in China, a controlling interest in which is owned by J. P. Morgan & Co. Incidentally, and as relating in a measure to the railroad interests held by Americans in China, the pending peace negotiations formed a topic of consideration by the president and Mr. Morgan. The president and Mr. Morgan discussed fully the Hankow railroad concession. Several months ago the same question was taken up by the president and his cabinet and considered thoroughly. An effort is being made by the Chinese government to purchase the concession from the American-China Development company, which owns the railroad and the contributory concessions. A proposition has been made by the Chinese government to the American-China Development company to purchase the Hankow railroad and the extension concessions. It is understood that the price offered is about $7,000,000. Some of the American holders of the stock are inclined to accept the proposal, but the European holders, who have a minority of the stock, insist that the railroad and its concessions be not sold, but remain in control of Americans. A meeting of the board of directors of the American-China Development company is to be held in Jersey City on the 29th inst., and it is expected that at that time a determination will be reached as to the acceptance of China's offer.

THE PEACE ENVOYS

Portsmouth Again Ready to Welcome
Distinguished Visitors.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 8.—Although the navy-yard settled back into its accustomed routine somewhat earlier than the residents of the city, following announcement of the delay in the arrival of the peace envoys, the operators in the wireless stations had a very busy day yesterday trying to pick up the Dolphin, which has the Japanese envoys on board.

Last night an answer to the numerous calls was received, stating that at dark the Dolphin was off Cape Cod, seventy-five miles away. She was steaming slowly and those on board thought that the cruiser would reach the harbor about 9 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Witte arrived in this city last night from Boston at 11:15 o'clock, coming in a special car attached to the regular Bar Harbor express. He was enabled to avoid a crowd of several hundred people assembled at the railroad station through the train stopping at a crossing about a quarter of a mile from the depot. Mr. Witte was met by Herbert D. Peirce, son of the third assistant secretary of state, who in Russian informally welcomed the distinguished visitor.

Governor McLane's secretary, Mr. Moses, was also present. Three automobiles were in waiting, and the party was at once taken to the Hotel Wentworth, about four miles distant.

Spectacular Parade.

Manila, Aug. 8.—A large spectacular parade was held in honor of the visit of the secretary of war, Taft, and party. Ten thousand men were in line, including military, marines, sailors, industrialists and thirty provincial delegations. There were fifty floats and eighty bands in line. The parade was three hours passing the review stand. Secretary Taft, Governor General Wright, Major General Corbin, Rear Admiral Train and Miss Alice Roosevelt and the resident foreign representatives were in the reviewing stand.

Searched in Vain for Body.

New York, Aug. 8.—In sight of hundreds of elevated and surface car passengers on the Brooklyn bridge, a well-dressed man whose identity is unknown, leaped from the bridge last evening. Policemen in a rowboat searched in vain for the body.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The New York "koshier" bakers are on strike.

Five Italian laborers were struck by an engine and killed at a railroad junction near Alexandria, Va.

A riot between Japanese and white men on the streets of Blaine, Wash., resulted in the serious injury of one white man and four Japanese.

The supreme council of the Royal Arcanum will meet at Put-In Bay on Aug. 30 to consider the developments growing out of the establishment of new rates.

The federal court of Venezuela has rendered a decision against the Bermudez Asphalt company in the case involving the so-called Hamilton concession, annulling the concession.

Twenty thousand persons assembled at Helsingfors, Finland, to protest against the proposal of the government to remove political offenders from the jurisdiction of the local authorities.

The eastbound passenger differential rate war from Chicago to Eastern points was settled through an agreement entered into by the various railroads concerned, and normal rates will be restored on Aug. 20.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED
Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts" for some time; head has ached and back ached; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her menstrual period she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up; you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right" and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 13th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, C.S.A. She writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, extreme lassitude, 'the blues,' nervousness and all that goes along. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

Russians Score a Point.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 8.—An official dispatch from General Linvitch reports that on Aug. 2 the Russians approached the villages of Nanchenbeni and Suisinchen, forcing the Japanese to evacuate their frontal positions and retreat to their fortifications. The following day the Japanese advanced, but were forced to retire. On Aug. 2, also, the Russians drove the Japanese from the village of Landunchen, twelve miles south of Taogau.

Shea Has Opposition.

Philadelphia, Aug. 8.—While the delegates to the annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, in session in Odd Fellows Temple here, have had a rather busy day, nothing has occurred to indicate the sharp fight that it is predicted will be made against the re-election of President Cornelius P. Shea of Boston. President Shea is opposed by Edward Gould of New York and Michael Casey of San Francisco.

Were Ready to Go.

Helena, Ark., Aug. 8.—Tom Wilson, slayer of his brother, and Will Robertson, wife murderer, paid the penalty of their crimes on the scaffold in this city yesterday. Both men were negroes and both met death with perfect composure, declaring that they were ready to go.

We seldom fear a danger that we cannot see. The danger of being run-down by a horse is a very real one to everybody, the danger of being murdered by a microbe does not trouble us. And yet the minute microbe is more dangerous than the wildest horse. The only people who can afford not to fear the microbes of disease are those who keep their blood pure and rich. These are practically immune from the attacks of most microbes.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies and enriches the blood, and gives the body a vigorous vitality. It cures scrofula, eczema, boils, pimples and other eruptive diseases which are caused by impure blood.

"I had been troubled for about four years with eczema, or a skin disease, which at times was almost unbearable as it would itch so," writes Mr. John Landon, of 115 West 11th St., Dallas, Texas. "I concluded to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and after using five bottles found that I was entirely cured. Please accept many thanks."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the blood as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and its consequences.

IN another column will be found a statement that the state authorities have their eyes on the gambling resorts at French Lick and West Baden. It is not unlikely that these places, one of which is under the control of Thos. Taggart, will have to obey the law just as good citizens favor. The people understand that Governor Hanly is in earnest and they are back of him.

Additional Switchboard.

The Telephone Company is installing a new and additional switchboard at the Seymour exchange. The present board is taxed to the limit and the demand for more phones made the additional board a necessity. This addition increases the capacity of the exchange 200 phones.

HOSPITAL NEWS.

Commission Meets at Indianapolis
Next Friday.

EX-Senator Inman, who is a member of the committee to select a site for the Southeastern Indiana Hospital for the Insane, has been notified by the Governor to meet the other members of the commission at Indianapolis Friday to discuss the question of the site.

"The place offered by Madison as a site for the hospital is magnificent, so far as the natural beauty of the surroundings is concerned," remarked Mr. Inman. "It is on a bluff overlooking the Ohio river and the city of Madison, and I never have seen a situation more beautiful."—Washington Herald.

At the meeting Friday the commission will look over the maps and other information filed but it is not likely that a decision will be reached at this time.

It is said that the next step will be to send men of large hospital experience, experts in that line, to view the different sites proposed and that these experts will report back to the commission.

RAILROAD MEETING.

Promoters of Electric Line Hold Conference.

Monday evening a number of the proposed electric line from Columbus to French Lick held a conference in the office of Shea & Wood in this city. Among those who attended were J. T. Stout, Paoli, Jas. Stratton, Campbellsburg, J. B. Burrell, Brownstown, W. H. Shields, Carl Wood, G. A. Robertson and others.

The proposition made by the Chicago people to build the line was discussed at length. It is the subsidy requirement of this proposition that seems to be the stumbling block. A subsidy has been voted in some townships and probably can be voted in others. The promoters are apparently of the opinion that in other townships the chances for a subsidy are very slight. They still have the proposition under advisement and will likely have another conference with the Chicago people.

The people all the way from Columbus to French Lick are anxious for the construction of this line. It would pass through a rich and thickly populated territory and would certainly do a paying business.

MEANS BUSINESS

Governor Hanly Going After Fashionable Gambling Resorts.

HE HAD TO TAKE A HAND

Local Authorities at French Lick and West Baden Refusing to Act the Governor Moved.

Personal Representatives Were Sent There to Get Evidence For Prosecution.

Indianapolis, Aug. 8.—As a result, it is understood, of the determination of Governor Hanly to stop gambling at French Lick and West Baden, the casino at French Lick, where gambling has been going on, has been closed for the last five days. The closing of the casino is understood to have resulted from the action of Governor Hanly in sending two personal representatives to French Lick and West Baden to investigate the alleged gambling conditions down here. One of these representatives was R. Harry Miller of Fairmount, a personal friend of Governor Hanly, who is said to have spent about a month at the resort gathering data for prosecutions.

Governor Hanly said that he could not discuss the matter at all. He did not deny that he had sent representatives down there. "I cannot discuss the matter," was all that he would say. It is understood, however, that the information concerning the two representatives is substantially correct. The purpose of the investigations was to secure information upon which prosecutions could be based.

This action of the governor is thought to have come from his determination to stamp out the gambling at the resorts at all costs. The local authorities there have so far refrained from acting against the casinos. The purpose of the investigations was to secure information upon which prosecutions could be based.

The governor's desire to close these games is said to have been intensified by the fact that in his campaign for law enforcement in other parts of the state he received many complaints concerning West Baden and French Lick games, and the failure to enforce the law there. It is supposed that Miller is to file affidavits in Orange county, compelling the local authorities to act in the matter.

PURDUE BRANCHING OUT

A Department of Domestic Economy Will Be Added.

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 8.—Offering technical and scientific training to young women, similar to the opportunities given young men, Purdue university will add a department of instruction in domestic economy when school opens in September. The decision to do this was made by the board of trustees at its June session, and the matter was left to President Stone, who has just made the announcement. The move places Purdue in the forefront of technical institutions that give young women training in their particular life pursuit, and places the sexes on a level at the university, although the co-eds of the school are outnumbered 15 to 1 by the male students.

Systematic instruction in all phases of the art and science of household management will be under the direction of Miss Ivy Horner, a graduate of the school of domestic economy of the Kansas agricultural college.

Made Successful Resistance.

Wabash, Ind., Aug. 8.—Charles Seeman, manager of a carnival company here all last week, was held up by two bandits, who endeavored to take from him $600 in silver and a like amount in currency. The silver was carried in a grip and the bills in his clothing. Seeman was terribly beaten, but fought off his assailants and his calls for help brought men to the scene.

Serious Wreck at Ellettsville.

Bloomington, Ind., Aug. 8.—A wreck on the Monon at Ellettsville resulted in the loss of $12,000 to $15,000 by fire. A local freight was standing on the main track when an "extra" rounded a curve and ran into the rear of the local. Six cars of hay were fired and seven cars and their contents were burned. The Ellettsville station also burned, with most of its contents.

COZY LITTLE HOME.

Six Room Dwelling With All Modern Improvements—Cost, $1,500.
(Copyright, 1905, by Stanley A. Dennis, 234 Broadway, New York.)

We herewith present a design and plans for a cozy little home suitable for almost any location. It is neat and complete in every respect. One of its good features is that it can be built on a twenty-five foot lot, which makes it especially desirable for suburban places. There is a cemented cellar under the entire house, containing a hot air furnace for heating the whole house.

The parlor is 12 feet 6 inches by 13 feet 6 inches, the dining room 10 feet 6 inches by 14 feet, the kitchen 10 by 14 feet; the main bedroom is 12 feet by 12 feet 6 inches. The others are 10 feet by 14 feet 6 inches and 10 feet by 9 feet 6 inches. The bathroom is 7 feet by 4 feet 6 inches.

The frame of the house is hemlock lumber and sheathings. The walls are covered with two ply building paper, narrow beveled siding and shingles in gables. The main roof is shingled with random width shingles. The windows are fitted with outside pine blinds with rolling slats. The columns of the piazza are turned cypress finished in the natural wood.

The exterior is painted with two coats of lead and oil paints, the body zinc white, trimmings colonial yellow, sash light green and blinds dark brick red. The piazza ceiling is North Carolina pine finished in the natural wood with a high gloss.

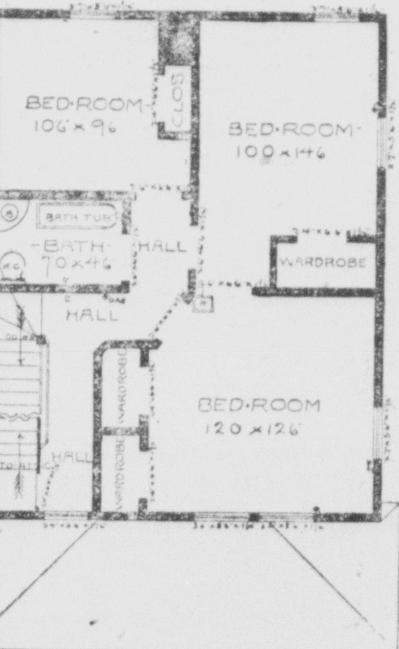

The floors are narrow hard white pine. The walls are plastered with patent plaster, one good coat of scratch mortar and white sand, put on one half inch grounds, troweled out smooth and left with a perfect sand finish.

The trim is kiln dried cypress of special patterns finished with water color stains properly rubbed and with two coats of flat varnish. The stairs are cypress, with ash newels, rails and balusters of colonial detail. The house is wired and fitted with gas fixtures. The mantels are plain dark oak, with large mirrors and tiled facings. Stairs run to the attic from the second floor.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

which is floored throughout. The closets are finished and fitted with shelves, hooks, etc.

The kitchen contains modern plumbing, with stone tubs, galvanized iron sink, back brackets and boiler. The range is portable, with a warming closet, hood and register. The bathroom has a steel clad bathtub. The basin is porcelain, set in a marble slab.

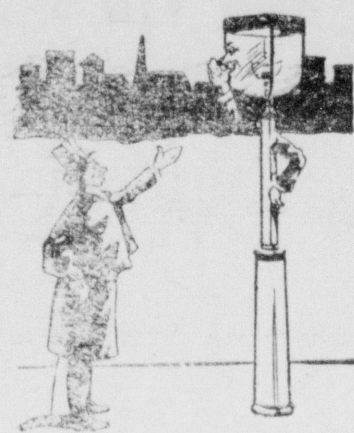

The cost of this house should not exceed $1,500 under favorable conditions.

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 2nd and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The trip is never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a slight difference in fare tourists may extend their trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of conventions, through time and passenger service apply to ticket agent of Pennsylvania Lines.

Regimental Reunions and Forty Second Anniversary Battle Chickamauga.

Chattanooga, September 17-21, 1905.

On September 18, 1905, will occur the forty-second anniversary of the Battle of Chickamauga. It is proposed to celebrate this memorable event with a reunion of the various regiments that participated in this memorable battle, and in addition, to hold at the same time, a grand reunion of all the regiments that fought around Chattanooga. This reunion will be held at Chickamauga National Park, September 18, 19 and 20, and the present indications are that it will be the largest and most notable gathering ever held in the south. On the above dates, the remnants from the armies of twelve states, comprising the following: Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and Kentucky, will assemble, many for the first time since they marched from its blood-stained fields, forty-two years ago.

Grand and glorious will be the meeting and all who attend will have cause to rejoice. The lowest rate ever secured has been given, the entire public for this occasion, one cent per mile, short line distances.

Here is one of the great opportunities for the education of the youth. Don't fail to take your children and show them historic Chattanooga, with all its historical connections. It is the opportunity of a lifetime. Go and see the old war generals and other officers point out the places of interest on the battlefield; let them show you and explain, in person, the markers erected on the battlefield showing the positions of the opposing armies at the time of battle. It will not be long until none will be left to do this noble work; take this opportunity and don't let it escape you. It is worth six months in the school room to any student.

It will be many years, if ever again, that such an opportunity will present itself. See that your tickets read via the Louisville & Nashville R. R., the Battlefield Route. Call on your nearest railroad agent for rates and advertising matter pertaining to the reunion, or write nearest representative of the Louisville & Nashville R. R.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Crowded Excursion Steamer Sinks at an Indianapolis Park.

Indianapolis, Aug. 8.—With an outgoing crowd of 200 employees of the Indianapolis Steel works on board, the pleasure steamer Ben-Lie, plying in White river at Broad Ripple park, yesterday afternoon listed near shore and slowly settled on one side in fourteen feet of water. Happily no one was drowned, though there were several narrow escapes. The listing of the vessel was caused by an incident on shore, crowding to one side of the boat. Many were thrown into the water, but it is believed all made shore safely.

A young woman waving her handkerchief at the excursionists was the innocent cause of the disaster. The crowd rushed to the rail to see her, when the vessel, overbalanced by the weight, commenced to dip water. Frightened, the crowd rushed to the opposite rail. Then the other side dipped and again the crowd shifted its position. The sudden lurching of the vessel caused the lower deck of the craft to part in two. This hurled scores of men into the water. Then the upper deck collapsed, precipitating more than a hundred men into the water. The vessel then sank and those who had not been thrown from the decks were washed off.

Scores of boatmen and workmen from Broad Ripple rushed to the rescue and succeeded in getting all out of the water, save perhaps one or two. Lorah H. Whitson of Russellville, Ind., was reported missing last midnight and friends who were with him on the ill-fated steamer believe him dead. The river was dragged this morning in the hope of recovering the bodies of any passengers that might have been caught beneath the wreckage.

While crossing a vacant lot on the way to the car he was shot and fell forward on his face, death coming instantly. The motive for the murder is not known.

The Russian envoy arrived from Boston in an automobile, and after paying his respects to Baroness Rosen, wife of the ambassador, had a long conference with several members of the embassy. are caused by indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart. Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

Against Murder Suspects.

Detroit, Aug. 8.—Harry Johnson, one of the two men arrested in Cleveland Friday on suspicion of knowing something about the murder of Pawnbroker Joseph Moyer, July 28, has been identified as having been in the Moyer pawnshop just a few minutes before Moyer was found dying.

Negotiations for the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance have progressed to a point where little remains to be done beyond signing a new instrument.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipience and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indications of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

BRIDGE WORKERS STRIKE

Twenty Thousand Men to Go Out Against American Bridge Company.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 8.—Orders were issued yesterday afternoon from the headquarters of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers by Secretary J. J. McNamara for a general strike against the American Bridge company from Maine to California. It is estimated that between 15,000 and 20,000 bridge and structural workers will quit work. Bridge work will be tied up in many parts of the country and a number of big building projects will be delayed. The strike of the iron workers when it comes will affect thousands in the building industry. The general strike according to Secretary McNamara, is the outcome of trouble between the union and the American Bridge company over the subletting of a contract to a Boston concern which the union claims is "unfair." The strike will be handled from Cleveland headquarters.

VIVID FIRE SCENE

Blaze in Hoboken Docks Affords a Brilliant Night Spectacle.

NEAR A MILLION LOSS

The Lackawanna Railway Terminals Suffered the Greatest Damage From Spectacular Blaze.

Flaming Ferry Boats Floating in the Stream Lent An Element of Interest.

New York, Aug. 8.—Inside of three-quarters of an hour late last night fire swept away the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company's terminal in Hoboken, seized two ferry-boats and practically ruined them, and for half an hour threatened the destruction of the entire water front in the vicinity, including the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd steamship docks, at which several big ships were lying. It is impossible to estimate the property damage, but it will be heavy, reaching probably near a million dollars. So far as known no lives were lost.

For over an hour huge tongues of flame leaped from the wooden structures on the Lackawanna docks, lighting the New Jersey and New York water fronts. For a time it threatened a loss larger than that of the big dock fire of several years ago, when the North German Lloyd piers were destroyed with a great loss of life.

Blazing ferry-boats, cut from their docks, floated in the river, wandering fire-ships, which for a time endangered shipping in the river. The fire started on an old wooden ferry-boat and swept by a northerly breeze, communicated with the ferry-house, spread the main building of the Lackawanna and then to the Dunes House, a famous Hoboken hostelry. The hotel was a frame structure and was ready prey for the flames. By this time the flames were spreading in all directions utterly beyond the control of the few fire fighters who had responded to the first alarms.

Following the hotel the structure of the Public Service Corporation, the streetcar operating company of Hoboken, Jersey City and nearby places, went down before the flames. Fire aid was quickly summoned from Jersey City and New York the former city sending all available engines and the latter dispatching two fire-boats. With this extra force the Hoboken firemen were able to prevent the fire from spreading through lower Hoboken, while the fire-boats held the flames in check along the water front.

While the fire was held by the firemen to the north and west, it was spreading along the freight piers to the southward, where only tugs and fire-boats from Manhattan could attack it. Here it caught the new immigration station. This building was of brick and stone and had been occupied only two weeks. It cost $70,000 to build and was supposed to be fire-proof, but was soon a mass of fire, the interior burning rapidly. Only a few persons were in it at the time of the outbreak and they were hurried out. Just as the alarm was given the men on the railroad terminal bridges were making ready for the arrival of boats from New York. The captains of the approaching ferry-boats, however, saw the fire and stopped their heavily loaded crafts.

They Had to Go Back.

New York, Aug. 8.—An attempt to wed a married woman who came from Germany on the same steamship with him caused a deportation order to be issued for George Reichold, a young German. He arrived here recently on the steamship Bulgaria and wanted the immigration officials to marry him to Rosa Blunk, a fellow passenger. The officials claim to have discovered that a husband of Mrs. Blunk was still living in Hamburg, Germany, and in the order deporting her they also included her fiancé.

Prompted by Jealousy.

New Philadelphia, O., Aug. 8.—Suffering from terrible cuts inflicted with a hatchet, Maud Snaffer was found in her home in what at first was thought to be a dying condition. Later Harvey Colvin, whom Miss Snaffer accuses of having inflicted the wounds, was found in the same house, under the influence of carbolic acid which he had swallowed. Colvin died shortly afterward, but Miss Snaffer is believed to have recovered. Jealousy is said to have prompted the deed.

Missoula Practically Isolated.

Missoula, Mont., Aug. 8.—Strike conditions on the Rocky Mountain division are regarded as serious. Some passenger trains are coming into division headquarters on time, but others are from four to six hours late. Wires, commercially and otherwise, have been broken during the last few days and Missoula has been practically isolated.

Soda Water Tank Lets Go.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 8.—The bursting of a tank highly charged with carbonic acid gas attached to the soda fountain in the drug store of A. B. Crowell of this city, last night caused the death of A. L. Hughes, a young clerk, and injured one other person.
